I'll describe my experience living in Canada as an foreigner.

- >Gypsies were all around Toronto begging for money, gypsy kids wait in front of ATM's to steal your money.
- >Tons of homeless black people sleeping on the streets of Toronto
- >Non white street hustlers constantly harassing people to force you to buy their shitty merchandise.
- >Mosque on every corner, more Arabic and African shops than Canadian ones.
- >Occasionally Muslims will decide to pray in the middle of street and block traffic for hours.
- >Literally like everyday there was some kind of protest in Canada which usually ended in violence with protesters attacking police and vandalizing everything around them. One thing you'll always see in Canada is someones car on fire.
- >Canada is under state emergency for two years now so you'll see a lot of armed military patrolling the streets.
- >Every single day more incidents of Islamic extremism keeps happening. Canada voted to ban pictures of Muslim extremists in news to not generate more Islamophobia.
- >Dangerous no go zone district all around Toronto where ambulance and police are attacked.
- >Toronto is one of the most dirty cities in the world, trash is everywhere, streets smell of shit and piss. Don't even bother taking pictures of anything in Toronto, everything is vandalized and covered in graffiti due to violent protests and rioting.
- >Housing in Toronto keeps getting more expensive, taxes keep raising, both wages and benefits keep getting cut everyday. The Canadian middle class and working class keep suffering while the upper class moves to tax havens out of Canada.
- >The most common belief among Canadians is that Canadas national identify,culture and ethnicity don't exist.

Liberty, Equality, Fraternity does not exist in Canada anymore, it's all virtue signaling now days. France is authoritarian fascist state where any criticism of the state is meet with censorship and imprisonment.
